Item 4: Advisory Business

Our firm is dedicated to providing individuals and other types of clients with a wide array of investment advisory services. Our firm is a limited liability company formed under the laws of the State of Tennessee in 2012 and has been in business as an investment adviser since 2016. Our firm is principally owned by Reese Veltenaar.

Our firm provides asset management and investment consulting services for many different types of clients to help meet their financial goals while remaining sensitive to risk tolerance and risk capacity. As a fiduciary, it is our duty to always act in the client's best interest. This is accomplished in part by knowing the client. Our firm has established a service-oriented advisory practice with open lines of communication. We believe working with clients to understand their investment objectives while educating them about our process builds trust and strong client relationships. These principals are meant to allow our clients to feel informed, confident and secure.

Impact of COVID-19

As discussed more fully in Item 8, disease outbreaks such as the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) that affect local economies or the global economy may materially and adversely impact our firm's portfolios and/or our business. We are pleased to report that the firm's IT infrastructure and collaboration model allowed AWA to provide our clients the same level of service notwithstanding the travel and/or lockdown recommendations or restrictions that impacted and could impact our office location in Chattanooga, TN again. Further, in light of the economic uncertainty and market losses in early 2020 and AWA's desire to retain all existing staff, the firm applied for and received a loan in April 2020 under the Paycheck Protection Program of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act to support its ongoing operations. The firm used these funds to pay qualifying expenses over a twenty-four-week period, including: payroll costs, healthcare benefits for employees, rent, utilities, and other relevant firm expenses. Absent unforeseen events, AWA clients should expect no material changes in service due to the current or any possible future health and economic uncertainties.

Types of Advisory Services Offered

Comprehensive Portfolio Management:

As part of our Comprehensive Portfolio Management service, clients will be provided asset management and financial planning or consulting services. This service is designed to assist clients in meeting their financial goals using a financial plan or consultation. Our firm conducts client meetings to understand their current financial situation and existing resources (risk capacity) in conjunction with their financial goals and risk tolerance. Based on what is learned, an investment approach is presented to the client, which can consist of individual stocks, bonds, ETFs, mutual funds and other public and private securities or investments. Once the investment objective is determined and agreed with the client, the portfolio is invested based on our investment strategies described in section 8 of this brochure. Portfolios are continuously and regularly monitored, and if necessary, rebalanced based upon the client's individual needs, stated goals and objectives. Upon client request, our firm provides a summary of observations and recommendations for the planning or consulting aspects of this service.

Our firm may utilize the sub-advisory services of a separate account manager or individual advisor to aid in the implementation of an investment portfolio designed by our firm. Before selecting a firm or individual, our firm will ensure the chosen party is properly licensed or registered.

Financial Planning & Consulting:

Our firm provides a variety of standalone financial planning and consulting services to clients for the management of financial resources based upon an analysis of their current situation, goals, and objectives. Financial planning services will typically involve preparing a financial plan or rendering a financial consultation for clients based on the client's financial goals and objectives. This planning or consulting may encompass Investment Planning, Retirement Planning, Estate Planning, Charitable Planning, Education Planning, Corporate and Personal Tax Planning, Cost Segregation Study, Corporate Structure, Real Estate Analysis, Mortgage/Debt Analysis, Insurance Analysis, Lines of Credit Evaluation, or Business and Personal Financial Planning.

Written financial plans or financial consultations rendered to clients usually include general recommendations for a course of activity or specific actions to be taken by the clients. Implementation of the recommendations will be at the discretion of the client. Our firm provides clients with a summary of their financial situation, and observations for financial planning engagements. Financial consultations may not be accompanied by a written summary of observations and recommendations, as the process is less formal than the planning service. Assuming all the information and documents requested from the client are provided promptly, plans or consultations are typically completed within six (6) months of the client signing a contract with our firm.

Retirement Plan Consulting:

Our firm provides retirement plan consulting services to employer plan sponsors on an ongoing basis. Generally, such consulting services consist of assisting employer plan sponsors in establishing, monitoring and reviewing their company's participant-directed retirement plan. As the needs of the plan sponsor dictate, areas of advising could include investment options, plan structure and participant education.

Retirement Plan Consulting services typically include:

- Establishing an Investment Policy Statement – Our firm will assist in the development of a statement that summarizes the investment goals and objectives along with the broad strategies to be employed to meet the objectives.
- Investment Options – Our firm will work with the Plan Sponsor to evaluate existing investment options and make recommendations for appropriate changes.
- Asset Allocation and Portfolio Construction – Our firm may develop strategic asset allocation models to aid participants in developing strategies to meet their investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance for risk.
- Investment Monitoring – Our firm will monitor the performance of the investments.

In providing services for retirement plan consulting, our firm does not provide any advisory services with respect to the following types of assets: employer securities, real estate (excluding real estate funds and publicly traded REITS), participant loans, non-publicly traded securities or assets, other illiquid investments, or brokerage window programs (collectively, "Excluded Assets").

All retirement plan consulting services shall be in compliance with the applicable state laws regulating retirement consulting services. This applies to client accounts that are retirement or other employee benefit plans ("Plan") governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). If the client accounts are part of a Plan, and our firm accepts appointments to provide services to such accounts, our firm acknowledges its fiduciary standard within the meaning of Section 3(21) or 3(38) of ERISA as designated by the Retirement Plan Consulting Agreement with respect to the provision of services described therein.

Tailoring of Advisory Services

Our firm offers individualized investment advice to our Comprehensive Portfolio Management clients. General investment advice will be offered to our Financial Planning & Consulting, and Retirement Plan Consulting.

Each Comprehensive Portfolio Management client can place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio. Restrictions on investments in certain securities or types of securities may not be possible due to the level of difficulty this would entail in managing the account.

Clients may direct AWA to hold certain investments initially brought into their account, purchase additional investments outside of AWA's portfolio model, or place restrictions to exclude certain types of investments from being included in their portfolio. When this happens, clients should understand these investments or restrictions could result in the loss of investment capital or other unfavorable results. Further, clients should understand the performance of their account could differ from that of an account with the same investment objective. If we are holding certain assets due to tax implications, we may work with the clients to develop a strategy to slowly diversify these holdings.

Participation in Wrap Fee Programs

Our firm does not offer or sponsor a wrap fee program.

Regulatory Assets Under Management

Our firm manages $237,396,740 on a discretionary basis and $38,773,793 on a non discretionary basis as of December 31, 2020.

Item 5: Fees & Compensation

Compensation for Our Advisory Services

Comprehensive Portfolio Management

The maximum annual fee charged for this service will be 2.00%. The fee for the management of client assets will be assessed based on the information below.

- Management of Assets Fee Schedule

Assets Under Management	Annual Percentage of Assets Charge
First $1,000,000	1.50%
Next $1,000,000	1.30%
Next $3,000,000	1.20%
Next $5,000,000	1.00%
Next $10,000,000	0.80%
Over $20,000,000	0.75%

For the sub-advisory services rendered to our clients, separate account managers will debit their fees directly, quarterly in advance, in addition to the annual percentage of assets charge published above. The advisory fee paid to sub-advisors can range from 0.28% and 0.75%, and the total amount paid by the client shall never exceed the maximum fee of 2% published above. Some separate account managers operate via the Envestnet platform. Those accounts would incur a platform fee of 0.04% per account, per year with a minimum annual fee of $50. This platform also offers the option of tax overlay & impact services for 0.10% per account, per year. All fees will be on the Schedule A of the client agreement.

Although AWA has established fee schedules, we retain the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a client-by-client basis. Annualized fees are billed on a pro-rata basis monthly in advance based on the value of the account(s) on the last day of the previous month and pulled directly from account(s). The value used for billing could differ slightly from the custodian statement due to trade settlement and accrued income. Adjustments will be made for deposits and withdrawals in excess of $25,000 during the month. In rare cases, our firm will agree to direct bill clients. As part of this process, clients understand the following:

- a) The client's independent custodian sends statements at least monthly showing the market values for each security included in the assets and all account disbursements including the amount of the advisory fees paid to our firm;
- b) Clients will provide authorization permitting our firm to be directly paid by these terms. Our firm will send an invoice directly to the custodian; and
- c) If our firm sends a copy of our invoice to the client, a legend urging the comparison of information provided in our statement with those from the qualified custodian will be included.

Financial Planning & Consulting:

Our firm charges either a flat fee, or on an hourly basis for our services. The total estimated fee, as well as the ultimate fee we charge, is based on the scope and complexity of our engagement with you. The maximum hourly fee to be charged will not exceed $400. Flat fees charged will be up to $50,000 and determined by the type of client and complexity of the engagement.

Our firm may require a retainer of up to twenty-five percent (25%) of the ultimate financial planning or consulting fee at the time of signing. The remainder of the fee would then be directly billed to the client and due within thirty (30) days of a financial plan being delivered or consultation rendered. Our firm will not require a retainer exceeding $1,200 when services cannot be rendered within 6 (six) months.

The fee to be charged and billing cycle will be outlined in the financial planning agreement for clients to sign. Payment for these fees are due within 30 days of invoicing.

Retirement Plan Consulting:

Our Retirement Plan Consulting services are billed on hourly rate and/or fee based on the percentage of Plan assets under management. The total estimated fee, as well as the ultimate fee charged, is based on the scope and complexity of our engagement with the client and are negotiable. The maximum hourly fee to be charged will not exceed $400. Fees based on a percentage of managed Plan assets will not exceed 0.50% of the total plan assets. It should be noted that with certain custodians we do not have the ability to change fees until being added as the adviser to the plan, thus if higher fees were agreed to with the previous adviser, these may carry over for up to six months, after which point the above fee schedule shall be in place. The fee-paying arrangements for Retirement Plan Consulting service will be determined on a case-by-case basis and will be detailed in the signed consulting agreement.

Other Types of Fees & Expenses

Clients will incur transaction fees for fixed income trades and some mutual fund trades placed in their accounts. These transactions are separate from our firm's advisory fees and will be disclosed by the chosen custodian. Clients will incur internal charges imposed directly by a mutual fund, index fund, or exchange traded fund, which shall be disclosed in the fund's prospectus (i.e., fund management fees, initial or deferred sales charges, mutual fund sales loads, surrender charges, variable annuity fees, IRA and qualified retirement plan fees, and other fund expenses). Our firm does not receive a portion of these fees.

Termination & Refunds

Either party may terminate the advisory agreement signed with our firm for Comprehensive Portfolio Management service in writing at any time. Upon notice of termination our firm will process a pro-rata refund of the unearned portion of the advisory fees charged in advance at the beginning of the month.

Financial Planning & Consulting clients may terminate their agreement at any time before the delivery of a financial plan by providing written notice. For purposes of calculating refunds, all work performed by us up to the point of termination shall be calculated at the hourly fee currently in effect. Clients will receive a pro-rata refund of unearned fees based on the time and effort expended by our firm.

Either party to a Retirement Plan Consulting Agreement may terminate at any time by providing written notice to the other party. Full refunds will only be made in cases where cancellation occurs within five (5) business days of signing an agreement. After five (5) business days from initial signing, either party must provide the other party thirty (30) days written notice to terminate billing. Billing will terminate 30 days after receipt of termination notice. Clients will receive a pro-rata refund of unearned fees based on the time and effort expended by our firm.

Commissionable Securities Sales

Our firm and representatives do not sell securities for a commission in advisory accounts.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees & Side-By-Side Management

Item 7: Types of Clients & Account Requirements

Our firm has the following types of clients:

- Individuals and High Net Worth Individuals;
- Trusts, Estates or Charitable Organizations;
- Profit Sharing Plans;
- Corporations, Limited Liability Companies and/or Other Business Types

Our requirements for opening and maintaining accounts or otherwise engaging us:

- Our firm generally requires a minimum account balance of $500,000 for our Comprehensive Portfolio Management, however this minimum account balance requirement is negotiable.
- Written financial plans are generally assessed a minimum fee of $2,500.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Cyclical Analysis: statistical analysis of specific events occurring at a sufficient number of regular intervals that they can be forecasted into the future.

Behavior Analysis: highlights inefficiencies such as under or over-reactions to information as causes for market trends and in extreme cases bubbles and crashes. Such reactions have been attributed to limited investor attention, overconfidence, over optimism, mimicry and noise trading.

Fundamental Analysis: considers the economic, financial, and other qualitative/quantitative factors that may impact the price of a security. Fundamental analysis attempts to measure its intrinsic value as compared to its current price. Risks may include using incorrect assumptions, financial misreporting and/or failure by management to disclose key, material events, and unforeseen micro/macro-economic factors that may cause the price of a security to diverge from its intrinsic value.

Technical Analysis: a method of evaluating securities by relying on the assumptions that market data, such as charts of price, volume, and open interest, can help predict future (usually short-term) market trends. Unlike fundamental analysis, the intrinsic value of the security is not considered. Technical analysis assumes that market psychology influences trading in a way that enables predicting when a security will rise or fall.

Investment Strategies We Use

AWA creates investment models to build custom portfolios based on the client's household risk tolerance and investment goals. Our investment objectives include Extremely Aggressive, Aggressive, Moderate, Moderately Conservative, Conservative, and Extremely Conservative. AWA primarily utilizes common or preferred stocks, mutual funds, ETFs, corporate bonds, and municipal bonds. In addition, AWA may select one or more sub-advisors to manage all or a portion of a client's portfolio.

Acumen Wealth Advisors utilizes Investnet Tamarac Advisor Rebalancing portfolio management software. Tamarac allows for the management of a household, a group of accounts, to be managed towards a single investment objective. The tax optimization feature allows Acumen Wealth Advisors to code the type of assets which is most likely to be tax efficient for various account registrations. Asset purchases can be directed to taxable, tax deferred, and tax-free accounts. The resulting holdings may appear to be outside the suitability of the client on the account level; however, this is not the case when reviewed on the household level. This process is intended to optimize client accounts among multiple different registrations.

Role of the Portfolio Management Committee - - Acumen's Portfolio Management Committee (PMC) consists of at least three members of the team. The intent of the committee is to conduct appropriate due diligence of selected portfolio holdings on an ongoing basis. The goal of this committee is to meet on a weekly basis to discuss economic developments, current events, and investment strategies that may affect our portfolio investments. Further, Acumen Wealth Advisors conducts due diligence on our model holdings semi-annually at a minimum.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss clients should be prepared to bear. While the stock market may increase and the account(s) could enjoy a gain, it is also possible the stock market may decrease, and the account(s) could suffer a loss. It is important clients understand the risks associated with investing in the stock market, are appropriately diversified in investments, and ask any questions.

Description of Material, Significant or Unusual Risks

Our firm generally invests client cash balances in money market funds, FDIC Insured Certificates of Deposit, high-grade commercial paper and/or government backed debt instruments. Ultimately, our firm tries to achieve the highest return on client cash balances through relatively low-risk conservative investments. In most cases, at least a partial cash balance will be maintained in a money market account so our firm may debit advisory fees for our services related to our Comprehensive Portfolio Management service.

Disease outbreaks that affect local economies or the global economy may materially and adversely impact our portfolios and/or our business. For example, uncertainties regarding the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak have resulted in serious economic disruptions throughout the world. These types of outbreaks can be expected to cause severe decreases in core business activities such as manufacturing, purchasing, tourism, business conferences and workplace participation, among others. These disruptions lead to instability in the marketplace, including stock market losses and overall volatility, as has occurred in connection with COVID-19. In the face of such instability, governments may take extreme and unpredictable measures to combat the spread of disease and mitigate the resulting market disruptions and losses. We have in place business continuity plans reasonably designed to ensure that we maintain normal business operations, and that our portfolios and client assets are protected, and we periodically test those plans. However, in the event of a pandemic or an outbreak, there can be no assurance that we or our portfolios' service providers will be able to maintain normal business operations for an extended period of time or will not lose the services of key personnel on a temporary or long-term basis due to illness or other reasons. The full impacts of a pandemic or disease outbreaks are unknown, resulting in a high degree of uncertainty for potentially extended periods of time.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

There are no legal or disciplinary events material to the evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities & Affiliations

Acumen Wealth Advisors, LLC is required to disclose any relationship or arrangement that is material to its advisory business or to its clients with certain related persons. Reese Veltenaar and Amy Stone are licensed and registered as insurance agents to sell life, health, long term care, and disability insurance. Therefore, Reese or Amy would be able to provide insurance products for any client in need of such services and would receive separate, yet typical compensation in the form of commissions for the purchase of insurance products.

Clients are not obligated to purchase insurance from Reese or Amy and a conflict of interest exists as these insurance sales create an incentive to recommend products based on the compensation the advisor may earn. To mitigate this potential conflict, our firm will act in the client's best interest.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions & Personal Trading

As a fiduciary, it is always an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and to act solely in the best interest of each of our clients. Our fiduciary duty is the underlying principle for our firm's Code of Ethics which includes procedures for personal securities transaction and insider trading. Our firm always requires all representatives to conduct business with the highest level of ethical standards and to comply with all federal and state securities laws. Upon employment with our firm, and at least annually thereafter, all representatives of our firm will acknowledge receipt, understanding and compliance with our firm's Code of Ethics. Our firm and representatives must conduct business in an honest, ethical, and fair manner and avoid all circumstances that might negatively affect or appear to affect our duty of complete loyalty to all clients. This disclosure is provided to give all clients a summary of our Code of Ethics.

Our firm recognizes the personal investment transactions of our representatives demands the application of a Code of Ethics with high standards and requires all such transactions be carried out in a way that does not endanger the interest of any client. At the same time, our firm also believes if investment goals are similar for clients and for our representatives, it is logical, and even desirable, there be common ownership of some securities.

To prevent conflicts of interest, our firm has established procedures for transactions effected by our representatives for their personal accounts¹. For control purposes, these accounts are traded by our CCO, or Reese Veltenaar in the CCO's absence. For transactions outside of the CCO's control there are pre-clearance requirements and employees attest on an annual basis to their adherence of the rules.

Neither our firm nor a related person recommends, buys, or sells for client accounts, securities in which our firm or a related person has a material financial interest without prior disclosure to the client.

Related persons of our firm may buy or sell securities and other investments that are also recommended to clients. To minimize this conflict of interest, our related persons will place client interests ahead of their own interests and adhere to our firm's Code of Ethics. Due to our firm's use of models, related person accounts can sometimes be traded in conjunction with client accounts if the same average price is received by all accounts involved, for example with a block trade.

The aforementioned policies and procedures are applicable only to self-managed accounts; those managed by a third party are not supervised due to the fact that these accounts are traded alongside and in tandem with customer accounts by a third party. If a client or a potential client wishes to review our Code of Ethics in its entirety, a copy will be provided promptly upon request.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Selecting a Brokerage Firm

Our firm does not maintain custody of client assets (although our firm may be deemed to have custody of client assets when given the authority to withdraw assets from client accounts. (See Item 15 Custody, below.) Client assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank. Our firm recommends clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian. Our firm is independently owned and operated, and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab will hold client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when instructed. While our firm recommends clients use Schwab as custodian/broker, clients will decide whether to do so and open an account with Schwab by entering into an account agreement directly with them with our assistance. Even though the account is maintained at Schwab, our firm can still use other brokers to execute trades, as described in the next paragraph.

How Brokers/Custodians are Selected

Our firm seeks to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. A wide range of factors are considered, including, but not limited to:

¹ For purposes of the policy, our associate's personal account generally includes any account (a) in the name of our associate, his/her spouse, his/her minor children or other dependents residing in the same household, (b) for which our associate is a trustee or executor, or (c) which our associate controls, including our client accounts which our associate controls and/or a member of his/her household has a direct or indirect beneficial interest in.

- combination of transaction execution services along with asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody);
- capability to execute, clear and settle trades (buy and sell securities for client accounts);
- capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.);
- breadth of investment products made available (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), etc.);
- availability of investment research and tools that assist in making investment decisions quality of services;
- competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate them;
- reputation, financial strength and stability of the provider;
- prior service to our firm and our other clients; and/or
- availability of other products and services that benefit our firm, as discussed below. (See "Products & Services Available from Schwab".)

Custody & Brokerage Costs

For our clients' accounts that Schwab maintains, Schwab generally does not charge a separate fee for custody services but is compensated by charging commissions or other fees to clients on trades that are executed or that settle into the Schwab account. Certain trades may not incur Schwab commissions or transaction fees. Schwab is also compensated by earning interest on the uninvested cash in client accounts in Schwab's Cash Features Program. Schwab's commission rates applicable to client accounts were negotiated based on the condition that our clients collectively maintain a total of at least $10 million of their assets at Schwab. This commitment benefits clients because the overall commission rates paid are lower than they would be if our firm had not made the commitment. In addition to commissions Schwab charges a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade our firm has executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into a Schwab account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation paid to the executing broker-dealer. Because of this, and to minimize client trading costs, our firm has Schwab execute most equity trades for the accounts. However, from time to time our firm does use resources from a third party to purchase bonds. To help ensure best execution we will check other available options with Schwab and have an agreement in place with the third party to limit the expense. Further, our firm does not benefit from mark-ups or mark-downs when utilizing an outside bond dealer.

Products & Services Available from Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services (formerly called Schwab Institutional) is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like our firm. They provide our firm and clients with access to its institutional brokerage – trading, custody, reporting and related services – many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our client accounts while others help manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis (our firm does not have to request them) and at no charge as long as our firm keeps a minimum total of $10 million of client assets in accounts at Schwab. If our firm has less than $10 million in client assets at Schwab, our firm may be charged quarterly service fees. A more detailed description of Schwab's support services follows:

Services that Benefit Clients

Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. Schwab may also aid in the payment of fees associated with the custodial transfer. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which our firm might not otherwise have access to or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by firm clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit clients and their accounts.

Services that May Not Directly Benefit Clients

Schwab also makes available other products and services benefiting our firm but may not directly benefit clients or their accounts. These products and services assist in managing and administering our client accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's and that of third parties. This research may be used to service all or some substantial number of client accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- provides access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitates trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- provides pricing and other market data;
- facilitates payment of our fees from our clients' accounts; and
- assists with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Services that Generally Benefit Only Our Firm

Schwab also offers other services intended to help manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- marketing, educational conferences and events;
- technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers.

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, Schwab will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to our firm. Schwab may also discount or waive fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide our firm with other benefits such as occasional business entertainment for our personnel.

Irrespective of direct or indirect benefits to our client through Schwab, our firm strives to enhance the client experience, help clients reach their goals, and put client interests before that of our firm or associated persons.

Our Interest in Schwab's Services

The availability of these services from Schwab benefits our firm because our firm does not have to produce or purchase them. Our firm does not have to pay for Schwab's services so long as a total of at least $10 million of client assets in accounts are kept at Schwab. Beyond that, these services are not contingent upon our firm committing any specific amount of business to Schwab in trading commissions or assets in custody. The $10 million minimum may serve as an incentive to recommend clients maintain their account with Schwab based on our interest in receiving Schwab's services benefiting our business rather than based on the client's interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest. Our firm believes, however, that the selection of Schwab as custodian and broker is in the best interests of our clients. It is primarily supported by the scope, quality and price of Schwab's services based on the factors discussed above (See How Brokers/Custodians Are Selected.) and not Schwab's services that benefit only our firm. Our firm does not believe that maintaining at least $10 million in assets at Schwab to avoid paying Schwab quarterly service fees presents a material conflict of interest.

Aggregation of Purchase or Sale

Our firm provides investment management services for various clients. There are occasions in which portfolio transactions may be executed as part of concurrent authorizations to purchase or sell the same security for numerous accounts served by our firm which involve accounts with similar investment objectives. Although such concurrent authorizations potentially could be either advantageous or disadvantageous to any one or more particular accounts, they are affected only when our firm believes that to do so will be in the best interest of the affected accounts. When such concurrent authorizations occur, the objective is to allocate the executions in a manner which is deemed equitable to the accounts involved. In any given situation our firm attempts to allocate trade executions in the most equitable manner possible, taking into consideration client objectives, current asset allocation and availability of funds using price averaging, proration, and consistently non-arbitrary methods of allocation.

Additionally, AWA will occasionally cross client bonds when one client holding bonds needs liquidity and another client has a need for a bond with similar characteristics. This is done to the direct benefit of both of our clients. We work with an independent fixed income specialist, most commonly Schwab's fixed income trading desk, to obtain a live bid quote on the position. When an impartial price is determined, we cross the bonds at a price above what was offered as the selling client's bid and below what we believe the acquiring client would pay otherwise.

Item 13: Review of Accounts or Financial Plans

Our Chief Compliance Officer, Amy Stone, reviews client relationships to ensure client accounts are in line with their investment objectives, and investment policies, if applicable. All portfolio management clients receive a performance report during review meetings.

Portfolio/Risk Monitoring - Each Investment Objective Form, utilized by Acumen Wealth Advisors, states a Target Allocation and an Equity and Fixed Income Range. The ranges define the tolerance bands and the asset classes may vary from the target. Variance may be attributable to market value fluctuation. The variance may also be a tactical asset allocation decision by the Portfolio Management Committee. Based on market and/or economic conditions, the Portfolio Manager may adjust the target allocation for each Investment Objective within the allowable ranges.

The tolerance bands are defined in the portfolio management software for each objective. Saved Search Reports have been established and are reviewed at least monthly by the CCO to monitor variance from the defined tolerance ranges for each client's Investment Objective.

Our firm may review client accounts more frequently than described above. Among the factors which may trigger an off-cycle review are major market or economic events, the client's life events, requests by the client, etc.

Financial Planning clients do not receive reviews of their written plans unless they take action to schedule a financial consultation with us. Our firm does not provide ongoing services to Financial Planning clients but are willing to meet with such clients upon their request to discuss updates to their plans, changes in their circumstances, etc. Financial Planning clients do not receive written or verbal updated reports regarding their financial plans unless they separately engage our firm for a post-financial plan meeting or to update their initial written financial plan.

Retirement Plan Consulting clients receive reviews of their retirement plans for the duration of the service. Our firm also provides ongoing services when clients request a meeting to discuss updates to their plans, changes in their circumstances, etc. Retirement Plan Consulting clients do not receive written or verbal updated reports regarding their plans unless they choose to engage our firm for ongoing services.

Item 14: Client Referrals & Other Compensation

Our firm receives economic benefit from Schwab in the form of support products and services made available to our firm and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at Schwab. Schwab also provides a benefit by covering any trading error resulting in $100 or less. This is standard procedure for Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit our firm, and the related conflicts of interest are described above. (See Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.) The availability of Schwab’s products and services is not based on our firm giving particular investment advice such as buying particular securities for our clients.

We may co-sponsor educational seminars and events with fund companies, custodians and other service providers in order to provide our firm and clients with information on various investment opportunities. These events do not obligate our firm or clients to make an investment in any particular opportunity and are typically for educational purposes.

Acumen may pay referral fees to independent persons or firms ("Solicitors") in the United States for introducing clients or investors to us. Whenever we pay a referral fee, we require the Solicitor to provide the prospective client with a copy of this document (our Firm Brochure) and a statement that includes the following information:

- the Solicitor's name and relationship with our firm;
- the fact that the Solicitor is being paid a referral fee;
- the amount of the fee; and
- whether the fee paid to us by the client will be increased above our normal fees in order to compensate the Solicitor.

As a matter of firm practice, the advisory fees paid to us by clients referred by solicitors are not increased as a result of any referral.

Item 15: Custody

The SEC issued a no-action letter ("Letter") with respect to the Rule 206(4)-2 ("Custody Rule") under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 ("Advisers Act"). The letter provided guidance on the Custody Rule as well as clarified that an adviser who has the power to disburse client funds to a third party under a standing letter of authorization ("SLOA") is deemed to have custody. As such, our firm has adopted the following safeguards in conjunction with our custodian:

- The client provides an instruction to the qualified custodian, in writing, that includes the client's signature, the third party's name, and either the third party's address or the third party's account number at a custodian to which the transfer should be directed.
- The client authorizes the investment adviser, in writing, either on the qualified custodian's form or separately, to direct transfers to the third party either on a specified schedule or from time to time.
- The client's qualified custodian performs appropriate verification of the instruction, such as a signature review or other method to verify the client's authorization and provides a transfer of funds notice to the client promptly after each transfer.
- The client has the ability to terminate or change the instruction to the client's qualified custodian.
- The investment adviser has no authority or ability to designate or change the identity of the third party, the address, or any other information about the third party contained in the client's instruction.
- The investment adviser maintains records showing that the third party is not a related party of the investment adviser or located at the same address as the investment adviser.
- The client's qualified custodian sends the client, in writing, an initial notice confirming the instruction and an annual notice reconfirming the instruction.

Our firm does not have custody of client funds or securities except in the power to disburse client funds to a third party under a SLOA. Our firm has adopted and relies on the above safeguards in conjunction with our custodian to avoid surprise annual audits. All clients receive account statements directly from their qualified custodians at least quarterly upon opening an account. If our firm decides to also send account statements to clients, such notice and account statements include a legend recommending that the client compare the account statements received from the qualified custodian with those received from our firm. Clients are encouraged to raise any questions with us about the custody, safety, or security of their assets and our custodial recommendations.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Clients have the option of providing our firm with investment discretion on their behalf, pursuant to an executed investment advisory client agreement. By granting investment discretion, our firm is authorized to execute securities transactions, determine which securities are bought and sold, and the total amount to be bought and sold. Limitations may be imposed by the client in the form of specific constraints on any of these areas of discretion with our firm's written acknowledgement.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Separate account managers selected or recommended by our firm may vote proxies for clients. Except for proxies that may be voted by a separate account manager, our firm and/or the client shall instruct the qualified custodian to forward the copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the client's investment assets for submission to Broadridge Investor Communication Solutions, Inc. unless the client selects to vote for themselves (described below).

SEC Rule 206(4)-6 requires investment advisers who have voting authority with respect to securities held in their clients' accounts to monitor corporate actions and vote proxies in their clients' interests.

Our firm is required by the SEC to adopt written policies and procedures, make those policies and procedures available to clients, and retain certain records with respect to proxy votes cast.

Our firm votes client proxies when authorized to do so in writing by a client. Our firm understands our duty to vote client proxies and to do so in the best interest of our clients. Furthermore, it is understood that any material conflicts between our interests and those of our clients with regard to proxy voting must be resolved before proxies are voted. Our firm subscribes to a proxy monitor and voting agent service offered by Broadridge Investor Communication Solutions, Inc. ("Broadridge"), which includes access to proxy analyses with research and vote recommendations from Proxy Policies and Insights. Our firm will generally vote in accordance with Proxy Policies and Insights data if the data is available. If enough data is not available, we will vote with management.

However, we may vote in a different fashion on certain votes if our firm determines such actions are in the best interest of our clients. Where applicable, our firm will consider any specific voting guidelines designated in writing by a client. Clients may request a copy of our written policies and procedures regarding proxy voting and/or information on how particular proxies were voted by contacting our Chief Compliance Officer, Amy Stone by phone at (423) 825-4796 or email at amy.stone@acumenwealth.com.
